The new reconstruction plan proposed by the Negroes of Little Africa will bring an immediate financial return to the city, according to a report made yesterday before a committee of the Negroes of Little Africa.

OFFICERS FOR ENGINEERS

Club Is Especially Active in Interest of Good Roads

TULSA, June 28.—The Engineers' club of Bartlesville at a recent field trip last night elected the following officers for the ensuing year: W. M. Thompson, president; H. H. Hill, first vice president; Paul H. Chamberlain, second vice president; Victor H. Volden, third vice president; J. E. Howell, secretary treasurer.

The members of the Engineers' club are connected with the big oil companies, contracting firms, and large industrial concerns of Bartlesville and are active in promoting various public interests, especially the road roads project.

To Promote Roads.—The club wants their purchase a large acreage where the new negro district is to be located, dividing it into lots and selling it to the negroes at a price to suit a slender pocket, so that they will contribute to the money to buy the houses they received for their lots in the present location.

The profits could then be plowed among the negroes according to the expenses they sustained from the up-keep.

There is no use stating that we do not expect to realize a profit in this venture, but the negroes, though untrained, frankly say, "These lots are much more valuable for industrial purposes than they are for residences, and would be purchased at a price to allow the property owners there a handsome profit over prices they paid, so they would not be compelled to sell."

The men I represent are men of means, and they are ready to enter into negotiations looking to the consummation of this project."

District of Two Square Miles.

According to Grady, there is about two square miles of territory in the burned district which would be available for industrial and tracking purposes.

When the money derived by the negroes comes from the sale of their lots is to be held by the county until the new district is created, or if it is to be turned over immediately to such property owners to dispose of at their discretion was not known.

Barney Major, chairman of the engineering sub-committee and T. L. Hutchins, chairman of the sub-committee to visit the burned area at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning in company with Grady to ascertain the exact amount of ground the progress.
